PREFACE TO INDIAN BOOKS 1971

The very existence of written records demands that they should be listed somewhere and thus their existence acknowledged. And when the Indian National Bibliography was started at the national level in 1957, perhaps this was the objective in view. The INB, with all its limitations, did a nice job for some years but unfortunately its publication had to be suspended. Now when it is revived again, it suffers from time-lag and comprehensiveness. Under the circumstances the documentation of the Indian books and monographs with maximum of coverage and minimum of time-lag is a necessity. And keeping this necessity in view, we have launched on this ambitious project.

THE INDIAN BOOKS 1971: AN ANNUAL BIBLIOGRAPHY is a comprehensive record of the Indian Books in English language published or reprinted in India during 1971. Besides including the Books and Monographs published by the Book Trade, it also includes the publications of the State and Central Governments and those issued by the learned Societies & Institutions. There are about 3,500 references arranged systematically in three separate sequences—author, title and subject. The Bibliography comprises of three parts. The first part consists of Author Index and Title Index each containing these references arranged alphabetically by their author and title respectively. The second part presents these entries arranged in classified subject order according to the Dewey Decimal Scheme of Classification. This part also includes Subject Index which facilitates the use of Subject Part. The last part lists the Publishers whose publications have been included in this Bibliography. The references have been prepared according to the Anglo-American Cataloguing Rules of 1967. The publications whose author is known are entered under its author whether it is a person or a corporate body, person under the surname and corporate body under its official name. Those for which authorship could not be established are entered under their title. Government publications are entered under the Government under whose authority they are issued and the Government is indicated by the territorial jurisdiction under its sway i.e. Central Government publications are entered under INDIA and those of State Government of Punjab, under PUNJAB. The publications of the Institutions and learned Societies are entered under their official names. Proceedings of the Seminars are entered under the official name of the Seminar to which they pertain. Well recognised national and international practices which are beign followed by the INSDOC & UNESCO for the compilation of their bibliographies have also been kept in view. Each entry accurately records the author, collaborator, title, place of publication, publisher, date of publication, pagination and the printed price of the publication which it refers to. Cross references under the name of collaborators have also been given in the Author Index to help those who approach the publication through its collaborator. Standard abbreviations, 'ed.' for 'editor or edition', 'tr.' for 'translator' etc. have also been used to save space. The publishers in the references have been indicated by their catch-word or important portion of their official names, i.e. the 'Asia Publishing House' is indicated by 'Asia' and the 'Today & Tomorrow's Printers & Publishers' by 'Today & Tomorrows'. We have preferred to give the names of the less known Publishers in full. We hope it is not difficult to connect the publishers given in the references with their complete entry available in the Publisher's Directory.

In the Author Index the form of the entry is as under:

PRASHER, RAM GOPAL
Indian library literature; an annotated bibliography. New Delhi, Today & Tomorrows, 1971. 504p. Rs. 40.00

In the title Index the above entry is rendered as under:

Indian library literature; an annotated bibliography.
Prasher, Ram Gopal. New Delhi, Today & Tomorrows, 1971. 504p. Rs. 40.00

In the Subject Part, the entry available in the Author Index will be found under the Class Number 016.2

The alphabetization of the references is according to the A.L.A. Rules for Filing Catalogue Cards.

This Bibliography has been designed to cater for the needs of the Readers, Research Scholars, Librarians and Book Trade. It will lay before the Book Lovers a panorama of literary and scientific output of India and thereby motivating them to read even those documents which otherwise would have escaped their notice. This will be a reliable bibliographical tool for the professional Librarians for their book selection and building up their library collections. The Book Trade will find in this Bibliography a reference directory indicating the availability and the source of many Indian publications of 1971. Last but not the least, this Bibliography will supplement some of the important similar efforts already existing.

PREFACE

Last year when we launched on our amoitious project the Indian Books 1971 : An annual Bibliography, we were not sure about the fate it is likely to meet. Because there were other similar Bibliographies already available in the market. Our only hope was the merits of our venture. We admire the sense of appreciation of our users who not only received this Bibliography with the warmth it deserved, but also communicated to us their opinions—favourable and critical—and advised us to continue this useful project in the years to come. Professional journals like the Herald of Library Science and Indian Librarian also found this publication useful and reviewed it favourably. So we were encouraged to work on this project during 1972 and the Bibliography is again in the hands of our patrons.

This time the Bibliography is more comprehensive and includes about 4,500 references The publications bearing 1971 as the year of publication, but which were actually released in 1972, have also been included. This has been done to reduce the gaps and make this project an organic unity. Many references have been given appropriate annotations to enhance the utility of this Bibliography as a Book Selection tool. And also this time we are able to curtail the time-lag further as we are bringing out this Bibliography in January instead of March, so that it could be used for the purchases to be effected before 31st March, 1973. And this has been achieved without omitting all what has been reported as published in December, 1972.

This project continue to be a labour of love for the compilers. There are many persons and organizations who have rendered their willing help to see this Bibliography through. Among these S. S. Lal of P. U. Extension Library, Sunder Dass and Raj Kumar of Lyall Book Depot, Khazan Chand of D. K. Agencies, S. K. Das of U. B. S. Publishers' Distributors, B. R. Chawla of Lalvani Bros. and B. K. Sharma of B. K. Book Agency deserve our special thanks. We also record our appreciation for the hard and sincere work done by R. C. Bhatia, who prepared the masters.
